

Allied Digital bags the Dataquest Excellence Award 2009 for 'Fastest Growing Systems Integrator'

Mumbai, January 13, 2009

Allied Digital Services Ltd, a name synonymous with integrated security and remote infrastructure management solutions, has won the coveted Dataquest Excellence Award 2008 under the Gold Category for being the 'Fastest Growing Systems Integrator'.

This award comes as a hat-trick; Allied Digital was awarded the Dataquest Excellence Award for 'Most Successful Solutions Provider' in 2007, and for 'Most Comprehensive Solution Provider' the year before that.

"Dataquest has repeatedly shown its confidence in us," points out Bimal Raj, CEO, Allied Digital. "This is a validation of our business model, our processes and the best-in-class services and solutions that we offer."

Dataquest is a leading Indian technology magazine that provides impartial information on technology issues and in-depth analyses on technology trends for both user and vendor communities. Apioneer and leader of IT media in India, it confers a number of prestigious awards, including the much-coveted national awards 'IT Man of the Year' and 'Lifetime Achievement.'

"We are delighted to once again be a recipient of the prestigious Dataquest Excellence Award," says Nitin Shah, Chairman, Allied Digital. "This award, like the previous ones conferred on us, will only inspire us to grow from strength to strength in the area of integrated solutions."