

Professional Services (IMS)

Overview

Allied Digital is recognized globally across the IT industry for our ability to deliver end-to-end professional services that range from pre-sales consulting to implementation and through and including on-going support. We serve clients needs in all areas of Integration, Application Development and Migration, IT Infrastructure Management and more. We help clients make significant strides towards improving the quality of IT services through the application of recognized best practice frameworks, such as Information Technology Service Management (ITSM) among others.

Our professional consultants bring substantial experience and expertise in a number of areas and disciplines to enable the assessment, analysis, design and development of intelligent enterprise solutions. These consultants are ITSM certified and can assist with the entire lifecycle spectrum from building an initial IT roadmap all the way through implementation and execution. Whether it's short term or long term, mission critical or day-to-day objectives, our IMS Professional Services gives you the ability to acquire the knowledge, resources, skill sets and manpower you require to design, build, implement and ultimately achieve your enterprise IT objectives.

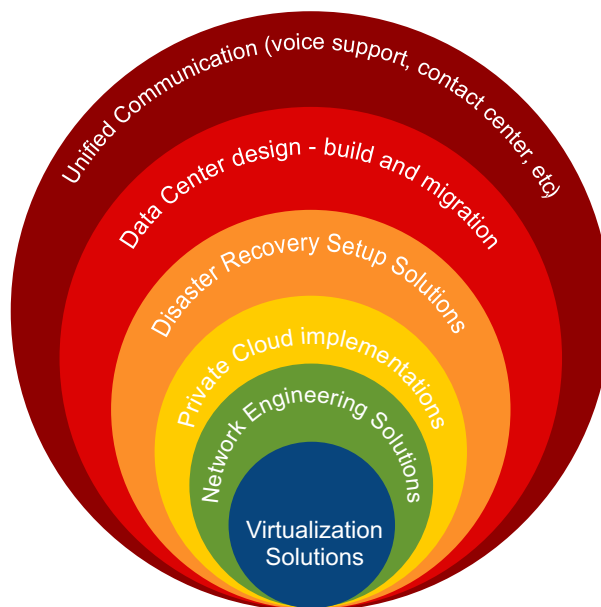

What We Offer

Our team of expert consultants offer focused services tailored to meet your specific business needs, from individual projects to complete outsourcing.
